IAA Market Value then compares it to other sold vehicle units based on selected search criteria to reach an estimated value. And with each piece of additional information on the vehicle (e.g. running, not running, airbag deployment, odometer), additional logic-based search filters can provide the most accurate valuation results based on IAA's historical auction data.

Users can also use the vehicle's VIN code to ensure the accuracy of the vehicle's details. This level of detail makes it virtually impossible for any imperfect matches to use as a comparison.
